Los Angeles-based violinist, singer-songwriter, and multi-instrumentalist Chris Murphy will release his new album Songs From The Trees on July 3, 2026 via Teahouse Records. Created in collaboration with acclaimed British folk artist Seth Lakeman, the seven-song collection blends Americana, progressive folk, and world music into a rich and atmospheric listening experience.

Recorded in a 16th-century monastery on the edge of Dartmoor National Park in Plymouth, England, the album combines Murphy's evocative songwriting, expressive vocals, and soaring violin with Lakeman's masterful contributions on banjo, mandolin, guitar, and fiddle.

The result is an intimate yet expansive album filled with haunting melodies, poetic storytelling, and lush instrumental textures. Exploring themes of love, loss, nature, memory, and redemption, Songs From The Trees invites listeners into a timeless landscape where folk traditions meet modern imagination.

Recommended for listeners of: Seth Lakeman, Neil Young, Richard Thompson, The Waterboys, Andrew Bird, and Peter Gabriel.
